OUTDOOR SHOWS OFF TO GOOD START!

By Diane Oser

Our Outdoor Shows have gotten off to a good beginning for Summer 2010! We have engaged many in the operation of the shows and we thank all who are so willing to pitch in and help when asked. We are all in this together and this was a common sentiment when I spoke to 3 of our wonderful participants on July 11.

Joan Shostak began participating in the Outdoor Shows in 1985 and was manager for a few years. Joan loves to go to swim and met a family from Ireland on the beach one day and invited them to come to one of our shows, which they did.....and bought one of Joan's paintings.

Rose Tedesco has been participating for about 12 years. Rose enjoys spending time with fellow artists and gets a lot of satisfaction from knowing someone liked her work enough to buy one of her paintings and supporting the Yarmouth Art Guild in this way.

Marjorie Kuhfahl has been participating for 13 years and spoke about her family and how she began painting at the age of 12. Her father was a successful artist in Australia and insisted all of his 6 children learn how to paint! She also told me she once sold a painting to the Mayor of Philadelphia and while I was speaking with her she sold a painting to a woman from Ohio.

The common sentiment from these three artists seems to be the enjoyment in spending time with fellow artists as well as meeting many interesting people from near and far.

We do all have our individual personalities and little differences of opinion about things, but our interaction with each other and with people from many locales who travel to Cape Cod in the summer is what is important

Again Thanks to all who are working hard to make this an enjoyable summer at the Outdoor Shows.

AN ARTFUL EVENING

By MaryEmma Colson, Chairperson

The Yarmouth Art Guild's first fundraising event organized for the purpose and intent of obtaining our own building for galleries, classes, lectures, workshops, library, etc., was held on June 5, 2010. The evening was enjoyed by those who attended.

Many of Cape Cod's most prestigious artists submitted paintings for the Live Auction. Silent Auction items were donated by many of our areas top businesses. The refreshments, music and socializing contributed to a great evening at the Cultural Center where many of our members had paintings on exhibit for the juried "Artful Expressions" show. Due to the lack of the number of tickets sold, many missed a wonderful opportunity to purchase a valuable piece of art at a bargain price and also to acquire some wonderful gift certificates and services from local businesses. However, those who did attend did not have a lot of competition and walked home with some unbelievable bargains!

We realized a profit of $3,097.06 for the event.

My heartfelt thanks and appreciation go to each committee member who worked long, hard and diligently from December, 2009 until weeks after the event:
